

SQP MARKETING INFORMATION

SQP distributes a Morning Market Commentary each day, as well as independently-compiled Weekly and Monthly Market Reports. We also distribute a quarterly Insight newsletter, special grain marketing offers, new and updated products, and other useful information at key times. We generally send this information out via fax and email.

If you not already receiving this information, and would like to, please fill in the form below and either fax or email back to your nearest SQP office.

If you already receive the above information, and any of you details have changed, please update the form below and either fax or email back to your nearest SQP office.

Alternatively, please contact your local SQP office and ask one of the representatives to add or amend your distribution information.
